

TOP 10 TIPS TO HAVE THE ABSOLUTE BEST HONEYMOON!

One of the most difficult choices that couples face during wedding preparation is where to spend the long-awaited honeymoon.

Here are our top 10 tips to ensure you have the perfect honeymoon experience you've always dreamed about.

1. Set a budget

Even before thinking about potential destinations or making reservations, determine exactly how much you want to spend on the first trip of your new life together. Now, remember to put the trip on your wedding list.

2. Determine the duration

In addition to the budget, many factors can come into play: working hours, vacation times, and pre-determined itineraries (especially for all-inclusive trips and cruises). If some of these factors or others appear insurmountable, you could consider postponing that trip to a better time for both of you, without renouncing your love escape.

3. Choose a theme/ambience

Are you inspired by the infinite number of historical sites in Europe, or do you dream of relaxing with tropical cocktails on a beach?

Focus on spending time together. If you have different tastes, consider mixing them by satisfying both. Popular themes include beaches, mountains, history, adventure, road trips, ecotourism, and city tourism.

The general ambience you are looking for is also a key factor in narrowing your final choice. Think about it, before looking for relaxation in Cancun or a romantic city escape in Paris .

4. Consider the season

Love is always in spring, the geographical climate, unfortunately, not so much. Considering the crowds, prices, local customs, and potential weather outages, the calendar also makes a difference when deciding where to go. An advantageous solution would be to take the off-season honeymoon to your destination. Savings and intimate beauty in one trip!

5. Evaluate the situation

Be it disasters, prolonged violence, financial crisis or any other type of emergency, it is essential to know if the potential destination of your honeymoon is going through a crisis. It is not only a question of safety but also of the beautiful experience that could be deprived of you by the gravity of the situation.

6. Pay attention to services and details that matter

Draw up a list of essential services for both of you. Once you have completed the list, look for hotels and destinations that include only the main elements for both. We know you will not want to find yourself in the position of having booked resort stays for 7 days and then discover that the hotel (or the area) does not even have a Spa or a Gym.

Decide together! This is not simply a piece of advice, but a foundation for starting your new life together and it will do nothing but good for your enjoyment and well-being.

7. Enjoy your first vacation as a married couple

Remember: heaven is with who you are, not where. You will have seen hundreds of Facebook holiday couple albums titled "Simply us <3" or "On vacation with my love" containing perfect photos of couples enjoying the idyll in an exclusive resort. First of all, it is always better not to make comparisons and above all these fairy tale moments that are carefully selected and then carefully published, it always hide quarrels, moments of stress, long faces, and almost missed flights, so do not be led astray by the idea of perfection. Rather, to release positive energy, take some time each day to show your appreciation for each other.

Find a place that you both consider pleasant and sit for an hour, say only positive and supportive things to the other. If at first, it may seem strange or difficult, it is only one more reason to continue. As you do this, you are building a source of positive feelings and benefits that will last much longer than your tan!

8. Check out the Weather in the Destination

Check out the weather in the destinations you have chosen for your honeymoon. If it is true that climate change now holds nasty surprises everywhere, there are certain areas of the world where some seasons are not exactly ideal for enjoying a romantic journey.

9. Reduce or limit your time on social media

Avoid taking your cell phone when you are out and about, unless absolutely necessary! If you need to take photos, make sure you are in a safe place. Before leaving, inquire about the rates of the place where you will go and do some digital detox.

Do not panic, your smartphone purification can be as simple as leaving the phone in the hotel room or taking the perfect holiday photo together and uploading it to social media only in the evening and not while you are out and about during the day. Without the pressure of having to photograph and film everything with your phone, you will focus more on enjoying the experience as a couple.

10. Plan and book your honeymoon with a travel advisor

Booking your honeymoon with an experienced romance travel advisor can have many benefits. You can save yourself the time and stress of deciding where to go for your perfect honeymoon while planning your wedding.

Travel advisors can advise you on the best time to travel and make recommendations on destinations to suit your budget and needs. Not only must the best rooms in the most popular hotels be booked well in advance, but the honeymoon cannot be put at the bottom of the to-do list. There is much more to think about! We advise that you plan your honeymoon suite at least one year in advance and not wait until the last minute.

If you want to have your wedding guests provide gift certificates or purchase experiences to offset your honeymoon costs, then our Honeymoon Registry will be perfect for you! We host honeymoon registries on our website when booking our Specialty Honeymoon Package. Check out our honeymoon page on our website HERE!

We hope these tips were helpful! Say YES to the perfect honeymoon experience and contact our romance travel specialists to help you plan your memorable honeymoon vacation!

For queries or further information on our honeymoon payment plan packages, contact:

The Travel Empire

romance@thetravelempirebb.com

(246) 269-8120

www.thetravelempirebb.com

Follow us on Facebook and Instagram @thetravelempire

